

Teresa Garcia, also known as Amehana Arashi, does website testing, illustration, is an author and poet, sells handmade beaded bookmarks, writes quest lines for the online RPG Dragon Hearts, and wears a few other hats.

She raises her two kids in a mountain cabin by a creek close enough to town that her brother can take her to the E.R. if her body declares a violent mutiny and decides to reject some other strange part of itself. The household has three service animals for everyone's needs, two being cats and one a dog. Make that two dogs if her daughter's boyfriend comes and brings his dog.

Teresa holds an A.S. in Psychology and B.A. in International Relations. She is also an Ordained Minister with an interfaith ministry and volunteers as curator for the Astral Sector Alpha and Trotsdale virtual libraries in Second Life, providing live readings and security at both in addition to curating.
